Overview of Graduate School Education

We would like to inform the assignment of graduate school education program to foreign students who enrolled doctoral course of Kyushu University from other university. The Graduate School of Science has introduced a Graduate School Education Program aimed at nurturing human resource development with a view to science and society in the 21st century. The program has two courses consisting Front Researcher Program (FR) and Advanced Scientist Program (AS). Students who are enrolled Graduate School of Science must belong to the either program.

The fundamental activities of students who belong to the program are the organization supervisor's team by self and performing the research while communicating with the supervisor's team. Please prepare the results as report at the end of the fiscal year and submit to supervisor. If approved by supervisor, please submit at the office for graduate school education (W1-B-306). This report is based on the grade evaluation. We also offer English Presentation as program classes, so you can participate upon your request.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to get in touch at Office for Graduate School Education or Student Affairs Section (W1-B-306; frasprog@sci.kyushu-u.ac.jp).
